discover a richly illustrated children s version of the world s most read book the bible in this fourth book find out about isaac and jacob s lives sarah had been hoping for so long and had prayed to have a child ishmael was not the son she hoped and this led to arguments with her servant agar god visited sarah one day as he promised at the oak of mamre one year previously he kept his promise sarah conceived and gave birth to a child this collection is perfect for young readers 6 10 years old to discover the greatest stories and the most important characters from the bible discover all the most important stories from the old testament in this new collection adam and eve noah s ark the tower of babel isaac s sacrifice joseph prince of egypt mooses and the ten commandments samson and delilah david and goliath and many more there used to be a story in the bible in which abraham killed his son isaac it is not there anymore neither are many other stories that were once told in the original bible jacob was the first patriarch the israelites were not slaves in egypt there were only seven commandments no other laws and mooses made it to the promised land instead of dying in the desert this book tells these stories it also explains how and why the bible changed so radically into what we have today this book is the first in the series about our hebrew fathers abraham isaac and jacob i wrote this book for someone who would be willing to come along with me on an exciting journey of deeper reflection someone willing to pull back the layers of translation traditions by looking at the original hebrew in the story of abraham and his son isaac whether you are part of today s jewish people or of the nations of the world that worship israel s god in christ jesus this book is for you because these great torah stories are your heritage as well without them you too just like an israelite of old do not know where you came from and where it is that you are going if you believe the word of god he will give us a big blessing god created the sun moon stars flowers animals birds fish man and he was pleased of all his creations he loves us the most so he wants to be with us always feel the heart of god through the beautiful pictures and wonderful colors

i didn t think he d do it i really didn t think he would i thought he d say whoa hold on wait a minute we made a deal remember the land the blessing the nation the descendants as numerous as the sands on the shore and the stars in the sky so begins james goodman s original and urgent encounter with one of the most compelling and resonant stories ever told god s command to abraham to sacrifice his son isaac a mere nineteen lines in the book of genesis it rests at the heart of the history literature theology and sacred rituals of judaism christianity and islam for more than two millennia people throughout the world have grappled with the troubling questions about sacrifice authority obedience and faith to which the story gives rise writing from the vantage of a reader a son a jew a father a skeptic a historian a lover of stories and a writer goodman gives us an enthralling narrative history that moves from its biblical origins to its place in the cultures and faiths of our time he introduces us to the commentary of second temple sages rabbis and priests of the late antiquity and early islamic exegetes some of whom imagined that ishmael was the nearly sacrificed son he examines syriac hymns in which sarah stars hebrew chronicles of the first crusade in which isaac often dies and medieval english mystery plays he looks at the art of europe s golden age the philosophy of kant and kierkegaard and the panoply of twentieth century interpretation sacred and profane including the work of bob dylan elie wiesel and a b yehoshua in illuminating how so many others have understood this story goodman tells a gripping and provocative story of his own excerpt from the story of abraham as told by isaac n old man tall and straight as an arrow a with a great wealth of grayish white hair falling in curls about his shoulders a flowing beard white as the snows of lebanon covering his breast and reaching below his girdle a broad fair brow wonderful eyes that looked out upon you from beneath great white crags eyes as deep as the wells he used to dig in gerar wells with stars shining in them stars that twinkled eyes that sometimes flashed like his damascus blade and sometimes melted with tenderness like the eyes of a gazelle such was my father as he appeared to me when i stood before him a little child three score and ten years ago about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works the arch book series tells popular bible stories through fun to read rhymes and bright illustrations this well loved series captures the attention of children telling scripturally sound stories that are enjoyable and easy to remember relates the story of abraham s fidelity to god and love for his son isaac what if what if you were abraham and god asked you to sacrifice your only son isaac to him what would you do i put myself in his shoes and the shoes of other famous people in history with my version of what if i was
